Visitors are welcome by appointment only please.

Welcome to On the Spot Massage Academy!

Dear Student,

We are so glad you are considering us for this very important life event-a career as a massage therapist. We strive to give the best education possible to prepare you for all aspects of this career field.

Our journey began back in 1994 when the school founder, Shawn Garrett, graduated from massage school in San Angelo Texas. He was not able to pursue a career in massage therapy at that time, however, Shawn saw the need to really educate himself on how to help others feel and function better and at the same time make a living. With his family growing he entered the corporate world for the next 25 years. During this time, he continued to work on his technique and knowledge of functional therapy. After his youngest daughter got married, he was able to start a successful business in trigger point, deep tissue therapy. During this time Shawn was planning in the back of his mind on how to help give others a superior education and achieve success as a massage therapist-that's how On the Spot Massage Academy came into existence! You can be sure that your education here at OTS massage academy will change your life and the life of the people you treat for the better. San Angelo and Abilene have needed a massage therapy school for many years so we are super excited about both. Hope to see you soon!

Why become a Massage Therapist ?

There are several reasons that a career as a professional massage therapist has become so appealing over the last decade and a half. In a fast-paced, high-tech high stress culture the public demand for massage has been steadily rising. The American Massage Therapy Association analyzed a study on the use of alternative medicine in 2018 estimating that massage therapy was an $18 billion industry in the United States. According to job Outlook the profession of massage therapy is expected to grow 30% in the next 10 yrs, much higher than most professions. Massage therapists find work in a variety of settings: massage therapy clinics, chiropractors and physicians' offices, airports, health clubs, cruise ships, shopping malls, convention centers, professional sports team clubhouses, salons and spas, hospitals, alternative medicine centers, and nursing homes, just to name a few. Many practitioners take advantage of portable massage equipment to provide on-site massage at office buildings or in a client's home. You can choose to work for yourself or you may prefer the security of hiring on as an employee or subcontractor for an established massage provider. Some focus on relaxation massage, while others take years of advanced training to master specific clinical applications or qualify to teach a particular discipline. Other therapists will choose to work with a special segment of the population, becoming experts in the use of massage to meet the needs of the elderly, pregnant women, athletes, infants, or those suffering the effects of a particular disease. Our Programs

The state of Texas requires a minimum 500-hour course of instruction for licensure as a massage therapist including the following subjects:

Massage Therapy Technique, Anatomy & Physiology, Kinesiology, Health & Hygiene, CPR & First Aid, Hydrotherapy, Business Practices, Professional Ethics, Massage Therapy Law and a Clinical Internship. OTSMA offers the most innovative, comprehensive massage program available. Our programs include the following core subjects:

Massage Technique I – 150 Hours This subject allows us to teach the basic principles of massage therapy. We begin with basic Swedish (effleurage, petrissage, friction and tapotement) gradually helping students give a relaxing massage. Our goal of this subject is to impart the science and art of massage therapy to every student so they can provide the best massage possible. In addition, you will also learn effective spa and clinical massage therapies. At least 125 hours of massage technique instruction will be on Swedish massage

Massage Technique II – 50 Hours This subject allows the student to refine their skills in massage after completing their internship experience, as well as expand on their knowledge of massage therapy.

Health & Hygiene – 20 Hours Health & Hygiene I – 12 hours

Students will study to understand indications and contraindications to massage, the effects of stress, the benefits of massage, the importance of proper body mechanics, disease recognition and understanding, the importance of good personal hygiene practices, and universal precautions.

Health & Hygiene II – 8 hours CPR & First Aid

Anatomy, Physiology, & Kinesiology – 125 Hours (50/25/50)

Anatomy & Physiology I – 58 hours Understanding the structure and function of the human body with an emphasis on the muscular and skeletal systems is of utmost importance to the skilled massage therapist. We use live models, and class projects to help students better comprehend the structure and function of the human body. Additionally, our textbooks are specifically designed for students of massage therapy and correspond with full-color, animated presentations used in class.

Anatomy & Physiology II – 17 Hours This class brings an understanding of all the body's systems to the student, and how massage affects those systems

Kinesiology – 50 Hours Kinesiology is the study of movement. During this course, the students will learn the interaction of the bones, joints and muscles. With this understanding, they will be able to better identify which specific structures are involved in an area of pain when working with clients.

Business Practices & Professional Ethics – 45 Hours

Business Practices & Professional Ethics I – 5 Hours This introductory class to Business Practices and Professional Ethics will focus on professional ethics and standards within the massage field.

Business Practices & Professional Ethics II – 40 Hours From advertising practices to maintaining your zeal for massage therapy, this insightful course will equip you to build a massage practice you can be proud of, and in which you can enjoy. In addition, we will discuss in detail the scope of practice for massage therapy, laws pertaining to massage therapy, and many more business practices in general.

Pathology – 40 Hours Pathology I – 5 Hours Pathology is the study of human diseases and the effects of the disease. This information is important to the massage therapist because there are conditions where massage would require caution, or perhaps not recommended.

Pathology II – 35 Hours This course has a more in-depth focus on different diseases and their effects, as well as how different medications react to massage.

Hydrotherapy – 20 Hours Students will learn to use hydrotherapy in a safe and effective manner through demonstrations and hands-on practice. Types of hydrotherapy to be discussed include whirlpool, hot and cold packs, paraffin, steam, body wraps, and body scrubs.

Clinical Internship – 50 Hours This portion of the program allows you to put all of the classroom theory into real practice. This is where the student finds their niche. Students will be eligible for clinical internship after successfully completing 250 hours of classroom and lab training.
